GOVERNORSHIP
FIGHT IS ON

Progressives and Democrats Join Forces Against Republicans in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—The Progressives, having joined forces with the Democrats in the fight for governorship, leaders of all parties and factions said today that the political campaign in Pennsylvania will be prosecuted with greater vigor than ever.
William Draper Lewis, the Washington party nominee for governor yesterday withdrew in favor of Vance C. McCormick, the Democratic candidate, has placed himself on record to support Mr. McCormick against Martin G. Brumbaugh, the Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Colonel Roosevelt will come into Pennsylvania soon and "big guns" of the other parties are expected to speak in the state next month.

BADGER TURNS
OVER COMMAND

Rear-Admiral Places North Atlantic Fleet in Hands of Admiral Fletcher.

New York, Sept. 17.—Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger today turned over the command of the North Atlantic fleet of the United States navy to Rear Admiral Frank F. Fletcher, who was commander of the fleet at Vera Cruz at the time of the American occupation of the city last spring.

The ceremony of transfer was staged on the quarter deck of the battleship Wyoming, Rear Admiral Badger's flagship, at the Brooklyn naval yard, in the presence of naval officers and the Wyoming's crew standing at attention.

FRENCH REPORT
TO EMBASSY

Battle Line Is Described in Despatch From Bordeaux to Washington.

Washington, Sept. 17.—The French embassy today announced receipt of the following dispatch from Bordeaux:

"On the fourteenth and fifteenth of September the rear of the enemy has been in touch with the pursuing forces of our army. The rear of the enemy has been reinforced. The enemy was forced to accept battle along the whole front, part of which was strongly organized.

"The allies are on the north of Vic sur Naisne, Soissons and Laon and also the high hills on the north of France. The line reaches on the north to a place, Ville sur Touvre, a town on the west of the Argonne mountains, and continues over the Argonne by a line passing to the north of Varennes. This last place has been evacuated by the enemy, who has reached the river Meuse close to the forests of Forges on the north of Verdun."

OFFICER DESCRIBES
SINKING OF SHIP

London, Sept. 17, 4:20 a. m.—An officer of the British cruiser High Flyer has given the following account of the sinking of the North German Lloyd trans-Atlantic liner Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse off the coast of Africa the latter part of August.
"While we were coaling at Las Palmas, Canary Islands, we heard that two colliers had left for Rio de Oro, West Africa. We followed and sighted the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse within twenty miles of Rio de Oro, with colliers alongside. We opened fire at 3:10 o'clock and finished at 4:25. The Kaiser Wilhelm sank at 5:10. Our lyddite shells soon settled things. Our ship was struck ten times."

THE STRONGHOLD OF KOENIGS-BERG.

If the Russians can "negotiate" Koenigsberg they will have taken an important step toward Berlin, as it is said to be the most strongly fortified city east of the fortifications which immediately surround the beautiful capital of the German empire.
Koenigsberg is the capital of the province of East Prussia, and has a population of about 200,000, is fortified by a main wall with twelve forts on both sides of the river Pregel, and a strong fort, that of Friedlaburg, on an island in that river. If reports be true, the Russians are at last near at hand, if they have not already reduced portions of the fortifications. Only terrible fighting, and possibly a long siege, can effect victory, however, and it may yet be another story if the Germans throw a great additional army from the west to the east.

The city is composed of the three-quarters of Altstadt and Lobenicht, on the right bank, and Kneiphof on the island. The last is considered the finest part of the place, as it has some of the most important public buildings, including the Town Hall, and also the bulk of the homes of the wealthy citizens. It also has a splendid cathedral, recently restored. In the Schlosskirche two Prussian Kings were crowned, Frederick I. and William I., and the city has a fine statue of the former. One of the most famous of Koenigsbergers was the philosopher Immanuel Kant, who is buried there in the "Stoa Kantiana," near the cathedral, and in whose memory a bronze statue was erected.

One of the many famous universities of Europe is that at Koenigsberg.
In the Altstadt quarter is the royal palace, rooms in which are still occupied at times by royalty, but more important is the fact that it is a fine example of thirteenth-century architecture, and that it is used for government offices, the public archives and the Prussian Museum. The buildings of the university are sixteenth-century productions, and the library contains about a quarter of a million volumes.

Government of Koenigsberg is administered by a chief burgomaster, a burgomaster, twenty-five magistrates and a municipal council of more than 100 members. The city at large is the proprietor of the waterworks, the gas and electric light and a great slaughter house, or abattoir. The city is the metropolis of commerce between Russia and Germany, and it would only be repeating a brief chapter of history if it were again invested by the Russians, as it was occupied by them in 1758. The French, moreover, captured it and held it for a time in 1807. With the building of ships of increased draft something had to be done in the interests of commerce, and the Koenigsberg ship canal was constructed, connecting the city with Pillau, on the bay of Danzig, which was opened in 1891. The average value of the commerce is about $100,000, annually. Koenigsberg is a busy place for almost all kinds of manufacturers, and the chief articles of trade are agricultural products, amber, tea, wood, spirits, coal, petroleum, colonial wares, chemicals and leather products.

It is an interesting fact in the history of the city that the Altstadt owes its foundation to the Teutonic Knights who built a castle there in 1255, which eight years later was destroyed by the Prussians. It was reconstructed and in 1286 was granted municipal rights. In 1300 and 1327 respectively Lobenicht and Kneiphof were created cities, the three municipalities long after, in 1724, being united under one government. The palace of Koenigsberg became the residence of the Grand Master of the Teutonic Order in 1457, but from 1536 to 1618 was the residence of the Dukes of Prussia.

PRESIDENT WILSON
IS NOT DISTURBED

Washington, Sept. 17.—President Wilson is not disturbed by reports that Americans and other foreigners will be in danger in Mexico after the withdrawal of American troops from Vera Cruz
